DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. Most revolutions are based on anger, revolt, and violence. In your opinion, what is the foundation of a servolution?
2. Serving others allows people to EXPERIENCE HEALING. Who receives the healing, the server or the person served?
3. Do you need to attend a large church to effectively serve your community?
4. Have you ever had the opportunity to serve someone and afterward find out that you were an answer to their prayers?
5. A servolution requires creative thinking, careful analysis, hard work, time, compassion, a sense of adventure, and many other characteristics. Can you think of any type of person who couldn't find a place to serve in a community of service?
6. Have you ever served someone and the experience unfolded in a way you never would have expected?
7. Have you ever been part of a service activity that received more positive or negative attention than you anticipated?
8. Has someone ever served you and you knew there were strings attached? Did it lessen the impact of their service on you or cause any negative feelings?
9. The Healing Place Church has the mandate to be "a healing place for a hurting world. Discovery Church has the mandate to "be a river, not a pond". What do these ideas mean to you? How would you expect people in these churches to act?
10. Have you ever been part of a service or ministry opportunity that opened doors to larger service or ministry opportunities?
11. What are some of the reasons that God may use smaller opportunities to unlock larger opportunities?
12. Have you ever received training to be part of a service or ministry opportunity? Did you get more practical knowledge from the training you received or from actually doing the work itself?
13. Have you ever been in a situation where someone served you in a way that was so meaningful that you were then comfortable with sharing a greater need with them?
14. Do you think the greatest source of relief and service in your community should be the Church or the government?

15. Should congregations open their door and invite community events into their church buildings even if was the possibility it might lead to negative public relations or press?
16. Why is directly serving people more impactful than writing a check and funding a service project?
17. Why is it important to keep your focus on building Christ's kingdom when you are serving others?
18. Do you think it is wise for Healing Place Church to promote other churches when they partner with them?
19. Do you think serving others is something Christians should expect each other to do?
20. If one your "church friends" never serve inside or outside of the church, would you point out the importance of service to them?
21. Do you agree with the author's assertion that if a church focuses on serving its community it will never have to worry about attendance?
22. Have you ever served or been served in the aftermath of a natural disaster?
23. Are you aware of how your church partners with other churches in the community?
24. What are some things you can do to assure that you do not get an elitist attitude while you are serving others?
25. What are some of the differences between how the church should be serving its community and how secular "social-justice" endeavors impact communities?
26. Have you ever served others with other members of your family? How did that impact your relationships?
27. Is it reasonable to expect that as you are serving and meeting someone's need that other, potentially more serious, needs may arise? Why is that?
28. Is every service opportunity a multi-person project?
29. Do you agree with the author when he says "the poor" includes those in poverty, in bondage, under oppression, and downtrodden?
30. Have you ever served someone only to find out later that your actions had a far greater impact than you expected?
31. Have you ever considered that every time someone serves that they pay a price for those they are serving?

32. The reality is that it's not possible to meet everyone's needs. How should we decide which needs we endeavor to meet?
33. What are the different ways that service opportunities can be evaluated for effectiveness and impact?
34. What would motivate some Christians to criticize other Christians who are serving their community?
35. Would you expect Satan to attack you if you are effectively serving other people and making an impact for Christ?
36. If your church closed tomorrow, would the community take notice?
37. When you serve with other people do take time to serve the servers as well?
38. Do you know what your gifts are? Would you like to have people help you understand your gifts better?
39. Have you ever been served as just one person in a crowd? Was that experience as impactful as being served as an individual?
40. Do you actively seek opportunities to serve those around you?
