2. No Chemo Yet...

- Nabeel had to leave his position at RZIM to follow his treatment and had to move himself and his family had to move to Houston to peruse his treatment.
  - Would you be upset with God if you had to leave your job and home because He wasn't healing you?
- Do you think your perspective on other Christian denominations and practices might change in light of a traumatic life change?
- Would you seek out special prayer and/or charismatic prayer to peruse God's healing?
- Do you think Nabeel has a realistic outlook on the situation?
- If you were critically sick, would you be praising God, and thanking Him for the time you have?
- Does considering Nabeel's situation make you feel grateful for what you have?
- Are you actively supporting and praying for those who are suffering around you?
